

Galaxy-One Cast of Recurring Characters

The Galaxy-One is the flagship of the Intergalactic Coalition headquartered on Earth, a federation of planets within the Milky Way galaxy. Equipped with Trans-Galactic Drive allowing travel to any galaxy in less than an hour, this Intergalactic Cruiser is enormous, with a hull roughly ten-miles long from bow to stern and formidable weaponry. The mission of the Galaxy-One is protection of the Coalition member planets and galactic exploration in search of global civilizations who wish to join the Coalition. The ship is staffed with a specialized crew of both civilians and military officers:

1. ADMIRAL JASON MCCAULEY – 60's, fit for his age with white hair groomed in a typical 20th century military style. McCauley is somewhat “gruff” with a low, monotone “gravely” voice and is a “by the book” commander. He's and in charge of Discovery Missions and recruitment of new member-planets.
2. CAPTAIN MATHEW CHAMBERS – 40's, tall, dark and handsome. Chambers is a history buff and enjoys quoting 20th century euphemisms. He's more of a “lead by example” commander and always exudes a cool, level-headed manner.
3. FIRST OFFICER, COMMANDER ANDREA KERN – 30's, a beautiful blonde. Kern looks more like a fashion model than an officer of the Galactic fleet but she is a very dedicated officer with aspirations of being a Captain.
4. PILOT, LIEUTENANT TYLER ZOHN – 20's, member of a race known as the Banjees which are similar to humans with red curly hair and red cat-like eyes. Like most Banjee males, Zohn is only 5 feet tall, small and thin but with an intellect far greater than humans. Banjees are incredible military tacticians even though they have very child-like mannerisms. Zohn has a difficult time understanding human behavior but is more than eager to learn.
5. DOCTOR MARLENA JONES – 40's, a short, petite brunette with dark brown eyes and a thin build. Doctor Jones is the ships Chief Medical Officer and a specialist in multi-species anatomy. The Doctor speaks with a slight southern accent and enjoys reading “old-fashioned” books.
6. MARINE SERGEANT, DALE KENSINGTON – 60's, tall, muscular and sporting a gray, "flat-top" haircut. Kensington is the stereotypical Marine Sergeant and is in charge of the Coalition Marine Platoon stationed aboard the Galaxy-One, which serves as the ships security force.
7. CIVILAN MISSION SPECIALIST, ROBERT RIDGE – 20's, medium height and build, short, light-brown hair accentuated by a straight-as-a-knife side-part. Although Ridge is young-looking for his age he is still and always presents himself in a respectful, professional manner.
8. CIVILAN MISSION SPECIALIST, EDWARD SIKES – 20's medium height and build, wavy, jet-black hair and mustache. Sikes is also regarded as an expert in his field and speaks with a slight accent of his Spanish ancestors. He likes telling jokes and enjoys pulling pranks on Ridge.
9. COMMUNICATIONS OFFICER, LIEUTENANT TERRY BECKER – 30's. well-groomed and clean-cut, Becker looks like a Harvard Business School graduate. His deep, baritone voice and precise articulation of words makes him perfectly suited for his job.
